

Definition of Independent Director of the Company

Independent Director Definition:

Independent director means outside directors that have specifications as follows;

1. Hold not exceeding 0.5 percent of the total voting shares of the Company, its subsidiaries, nor being a major shareholder, affiliates or other juristic persons with possible conflict of interest, including the shares held by their related persons (under Section 258 of Securities and Exchange Act)
2. Neither involving in management, non-controlling, nor being the Company's executive/employees, salaried consultant, competent authorized person to control the Company, its subsidiaries, affiliates or other juristic person with possible conflict of interest at present and in the last 3 years before appointment.
3. Not being a person related by blood or legal registration such as father, mother, spouse, sibling, and child, including spouse of the child, to executives, major shareholders, controlling persons, or persons to be nominated as executive or controlling person of the Company or its subsidiary, and be independent from major shareholders, executives and controlling persons.
4. Not being person who has, or used to have, business relationship with the Company, subsidiaries, affiliate companies, major shareholder, or authorized controller, by offering professional and trade service, according to the SET's requirement on connected transaction, except that he has no longer had such relation for at least 3 years.
5. Not be or used to be auditor of the Company, subsidiaries, affiliate companies, major shareholder, or authorized controller, and not being shareholder.
6. Not being a person who has been appointed as a representative of the Company's Director, major shareholders or shareholders who are related to the major shareholders.
7. Not having any characteristics which make him/her incapable in expressing independent opinions.
8. Be capable in protecting all shareholders' benefits equally and supervising in order to prohibit any conflict of interest between the Company and related persons, and able to attend the meetings of the Board of Directors in order to make a decision on significant issues.

Furthermore, this definition of independent directors has been revised so as to be stricter than that defined by the SEC.

Criteria in selecting independent directors:

The Company selects independent directors by taking into account the knowledge, experience good understanding in related businesses, vision, as well as sufficient time to perform duty, also with the qualities as stated in the concerned government agencies' announcements, regulations and rules. The Company would invite qualified persons to be its independent directors. The Company considers that the aforementioned independent directors are able to exercise their knowledge and capability as well as provide opinions that are useful and appropriate to support the Company's business operation.
